Understanding the HESI A2 Math Section

The HESI A2 math section is designed to evaluate a candidate's basic math skills necessary for success in nursing programs. It typically consists of approximately 30 to 50 questions, which must be answered within a set time limit. The questions cover a variety of math topics, ranging from simple arithmetic to more complex problem-solving scenarios. This section tests numerical reasoning, calculation accuracy, and the ability to apply mathematical concepts in healthcare-related contexts. A thorough understanding of the exam structure and content is vital for effective preparation and achieving a competitive score.

Exam Format and Timing

The math section of the HESI A2 exam is usually timed, with candidates given around 50 minutes to complete all questions. The format includes multiple-choice questions that assess a range of skills, including basic operations, fractions, decimals, percentages, ratios, proportions, and algebraic equations. Time management is crucial, as the exam's time constraints require quick thinking and efficient problem-solving. Familiarity with the question format through repeated practice can reduce test anxiety and improve accuracy.

Scoring and Passing Requirements

Scores on the HESI A2 math section typically range from 0 to 100, with many nursing programs setting a minimum passing score around 75 or higher.
