The Indiana learners permit is the first step for new drivers to legally practice driving under supervision before obtaining a full driver's license. To qualify for the permit, applicants must meet certain age and identification requirements established by the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV). The permit allows holders to gain practical driving experience while adhering to specific restrictions designed to enhance safety.

Eligibility Requirements

Applicants must be at least 15 years and 6 months old to apply for an Indiana learners permit. They must also provide proof of identity, residency, and legal presence within the state. Additionally, applicants under 18 years of age typically need parental consent or a completed driver education course certificate.

Permit Restrictions

While holding the learner's permit, drivers are required to be accompanied by a licensed adult driver who is at least 25 years old and occupies the front passenger seat. The permit holder must follow all Indiana traffic laws and restrictions, including limitations on nighttime driving and passenger numbers, depending on their age.
