This schedule applies to the Diploma Programme exams worldwide and includes both written and oral assessments. The official timetable is released by the International Baccalaureate Organization (IBO), ensuring standardized exam administration across all authorized IB schools. The schedule includes dates for core components like Theory of Knowledge (TOK), Extended Essay (EE) submissions, and Creativity, Activity, Service (CAS) requirements, although CAS is assessed internally.

Adherence to the official exam schedule is critical, as exams cannot be rescheduled except under extraordinary circumstances. The timetable is structured to avoid overlap between major exams, allowing students to allocate adequate preparation time for each subject. Furthermore, the IB exam schedule 2024 supports students taking exams in various languages and accommodates different time zones for international candidates.

Key Dates and Timetable Details

The IB exam schedule 2024 features a detailed timetable that specifies the exact date and time for each subject examination. The exams are typically held over a period of approximately three weeks, with morning and afternoon sessions on most days. Morning sessions usually start around 9:00 AM, while afternoon sessions begin at approximately 1:00 PM local time.

Start and End Dates

The 2024 IB exams are scheduled to commence on May 6, 2024, and conclude on May 29, 2024. These dates encompass all written exams and may vary slightly depending on the candidate's geographical location and specific school arrangements.

Exam Session Times

Examinations are divided into morning and afternoon sessions to accommodate a large number of subjects and candidates. The sessions are organized as follows:

- Morning Session: Usually begins at 9:00 AM and lasts for the duration of the specific exam.
- Afternoon Session: Typically starts at 1:00 PM and follows the morning exams.

It is essential for students to verify the exact timing of their exams with their respective IB coordinators, as times may vary slightly due to local considerations.

Subject Groupings and Exam Sessions

The IB Diploma Programme encompasses six subject groups, each with distinct exam components. The IB exam schedule 2024 allocates specific days for each subject group, ensuring a balanced distribution of exams throughout the session.

Group 1: Studies in Language and Literature

This group includes exams in native or best language studies, such as English A Literature or Language and Literature. The exams typically involve written papers assessing literary analysis and comprehension skills.

Group 2: Language Acquisition

Language acquisition subjects, including French, Spanish, and Mandarin, have exams that cover written, oral, and listening components. Oral exams are often scheduled separately from written papers.

Group 3: Individuals and Societies

Subjects such as History, Economics, and Psychology are tested through written papers that evaluate analytical and critical thinking abilities.

Group 4: Sciences

Sciences like Biology, Chemistry, and Physics require practical and written exams. Practical exams or internal assessments are conducted prior to the written exams and are not included in the official exam schedule.

Group 5: Mathematics

The mathematics exams, including Mathematics: Analysis and Approaches and Mathematics: Applications and Interpretation, are scheduled to allow students adequate revision time between sessions.

Group 6: The Arts

Art, Music, and Theatre exams focus on both practical and written components. Written exams are included in the official schedule, while practical work is assessed internally.

Core Components

The Theory of Knowledge (TOK) and Extended Essay (EE) assessments have deadlines that coincide with or precede the exam schedule. While not always part of the standardized exam timetable, these components are integral to the Diploma Programme.

Important Guidelines for IB Candidates

Understanding and adhering to the ib exam schedule 2024 is essential for all candidates to ensure smooth exam administration and compliance with IB regulations.

ib exam schedule 2024: Equitable School Scheduling Cheryl Hibbeln, Lori Rhodes, 2024-11-05 To understand a school's values and priorities, look at its schedule. When schedules do not meet the instructional needs of students, the result is a pipeline from PreK through grade 12 that leaks students, an outcome disproportionately experienced by students of color and other marginalized student groups. This practical and thoughtful guide demonstrates how school and district scheduling teams can become Architects of Equity—highly effective teams who design schedules that reflect their commitment to student achievement and social-emotional wellbeing. Including strategies to shift collective mindsets around scheduling, organize and support teaching teams, and ensure fiscal responsibility in scheduling, Equitable School Scheduling is a vital resource for secondary school leaders committed to dismantling systemic inequities inherent in school structures. Readers will learn how to Self-assess site and/or district data through a deep examination of the course of study, site schedule(s), transcripts, and graduation cohort outcomes. Design and implement an Equitable Core—a guaranteed set of courses that all students experience as a part of a meaningful graduation. Prioritize underestimated and historically underserved students in the planning of the schedule. Equitable School Scheduling helps school and district administrators use scheduling as a tool to transform the leaky pipeline to graduation into a meaningful path to post-secondary success for all students.

ib exam schedule 2024: The International Baccalaureate in Asia Moosung Lee, Ewan Wright, Allan Walker, 2024-12-23 Drawing on extensive scholarly work, datasets, and experience with International Baccalaureate (IB) schools in Asia, this book illuminates contemporary debates, discussions, and discoveries surrounding IB schools in the region. Schools adopting IB programmes are growing exponentially worldwide, where Asia has seen the fastest growth since 2000. By critically exploring the roles, practices, and impacts of IB schools, this book enhances our understanding of whether and how IB programmes can drive improvements in school practices and systems in Asia. The book is organised into four parts and 12 chapters, aiming to discern “the light and shadow” of schools implementing IB programmes. Part 1 provides insights into International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (IBDP) students' learning experiences and outcomes. Part 2 focuses on school leadership, examining the role of leadership in programme implementation and its relationship with IBDP student achievement. Part 3 offers a comparative perspective on the IB, exploring topics such as the pedagogical characteristics of the Middle Years Programme (MYP), the introduction of IB programmes into local and national education systems, and comparing the promised and actual benefits between the IBDP and other international programmes. Finally, Part 4 addresses two critical issues related to the expansion of IB programmes in Asia: the introduction and operation of IB programmes within national contexts and the emergence of educational stratifications and inequalities by the expansion of IB schools. Built on substantial data and empirical studies, this book fills a crucial gap in understanding the evolving nature of IB programmes in Asia. It provides readers with a critical and comprehensive understanding of the changing landscape of IB schooling practices and systems in the region. This book is an invaluable resource for academics, educators, scholars, and graduate students in the fields of educational leadership and administration, comparative and international education, higher education, and education policy and governance.
