Understanding the iCivics Candidate Evaluation

The iCivics candidate evaluation is an interactive educational tool designed to engage students in the democratic process by simulating the evaluation of political candidates. This exercise encourages users to analyze candidates' platforms, compare policy proposals, and assess leadership qualities. The evaluation involves examining various issues important to voters, such as education, healthcare, and the economy, and determining which candidate aligns best with the voter's values and priorities. By participating in this activity, students gain practical understanding of electoral processes and the factors influencing voter decisions.

Purpose of the Candidate Evaluation Activity

The primary purpose of the iCivics candidate evaluation is to promote civic literacy and informed participation in elections. It allows learners to practice critical analysis by scrutinizing campaign materials and public statements.
